Applications Now Open Initial Teacher Training

Want to become a teacher, or know someone who does? You're in luck! Applications are now open for our Initial Teacher Training programme, delivered in partnership with Ambition Institute. This revolutionary programme allows teachers to train in the classroom, gaining real on-the-job experience as they learn.

Celebrating the Amazing Women of ATT

To mark International Women's Day, ATT Institute is sharing stories from our Trust's inspirational female colleagues throughout the month of March.

We want to hear from you! Tell us about your experiences as a woman in the education sector, or working for ATT. It doesn't have to be an epic story of overcoming challenge- you could tell us about your career journey, experiences as a working mother, a female role model who has inspired you, or something else. We're genuinely interested to hear experiences from women in all roles across our Trust.
